New York Giants Have That INTERSCHOLASTIC Title

BY DEFEATING ATHLETICS

Saturday's Victory, 2 to 0, Gave Them. the Post-season Series, Four Games to One-Americans Champions of Boston.

New York, Oct. 16 .- The New York National league champions, amid frenzied plandits of more than 24,000 base ball enthusiasts, won the world's proball enthusiasts, won the world's pro-fessional base ball championship on the Polo grounds Saturday afternoon by de-feating the Philadelphia American league team in the fifth game of the post sea-son series by the score of 2 to 0. Of the four previous games, New York had won three and Philadelphia one. With Mathewson pitching, New York took the opening game in Philadelphia, but lost the second on the Polo grounds with Bender pitted against McGinnity. Ma-thewson retrieved this defeat in the en-suing game at Philadelphia, making the record two for New York against their opponents' one and in the next game on opponents' one and in the next game on the home grounds New York, with Mc-Ginnity in the box added another vic-

Ginnity in the box added another victory.

Mathewson and Bender confronted each other Saturday in what proved to be the final contest. In the opening innings the New York pitcher was apparently not at his best, while his Indian adversary afforded a splendid exhibition of the pitcher's art. Mathewson, however, soon rallied, and, although he contributed the only two fielding errors of the game, he held the visitors safe. The victory, however, was not due so much to his effectiveness as to the clean, sharp fielding of the New York men. The visitors weakened in the infield, visitors weakened in the infield and after his brilliant opening Bender lost control. The division of receipts will not the winning players $142 each and the losers $120. The score.

MISS MACKAY IS CHAMPION.

Holes-Equals Nine-Hole Record.

New York, Oct. 16.-Miss Pauline Mackay of the Oakley Country club of Watertown won the women's national golf championship Saturday, defeating Miss Margaret Curtis of the Essex Coun-ty Country club of Manchester by 1 up in 18 holes. Miss Curtis was 3 up at the turn, going out in the women's record for the nine holes of 40. Miss Mackay then won the 11th and 12th holes in 6 and 4 and squared the match by win-ning the 14th hole in six. Miss Mackay was I up at the 15th hole. Miss Curtis was 1 up at the third hole, and 2 up at the fifth. Miss Mackay won the sixth, but Miss Curtis was again 2 up

ATHLETIC MEET.

Will Be Held Next May Under Auspices of the University of Vermont Athletic Association.

According to a decision reached last June an invitation-athletic meet, open to all the high schools and academies of the state, will be held annually by the University of Vermont on its new ath-letic field on Colchester avenue, Burling-ton. The first of these meets will be ton. The first of these meets will be held next May, and at present 14 schools and academies of the state have applied for representation at the meeting.

The object of these annual contests is to stimulate an interest in field and track athletics among the preparatory schools and academies and to afford them an opportunity to compete for honors in a fair and open contest. Experience has shown that this object can be much bet-ter attained under the supervision of the colleges than by means of interscholastic associations.

The movement for an annual scholastic meet, under the auspices of the Univer-sity of Vermont, was started last May and in June the athletic committee deand in June the athletic committee de-cided in favor of holding the meet. Since then N. D. Hulett, manager of the univer-sity track team, has been busy making arrangements for the initial meet. Cir-clars, explaining the project, have been sent to 81 of the preparatory schools and academies of the state, and at pres-ent 14 of the institutions thus notified have appropried their intention of enave announced their intention of en-

Several other schools will probably en-ter before next May, among them Spring-field, Middlebury and Montpelier high schools and Goddard seminary. It is not known whether Burlington high will enter or not.

The first meet will be held on the new athletic field the last Saturday in May and there will be no postponement on account of weather. The general supervision of the meeting and all the details of the field arrangement will be in the of the field arrangements will be in the hands of the manager of the university athletic association.

Regarding entrance to the meeting: On account of the large number of schools which will compete, no school shall en-ter more than four men in any event, and only three of these will be allowed to start. The only restrictions regard-ing contestants is that they shall be bona fide students of their school, having

There will be about 15 events in the neetings, including the 100-yard dash, 226, 440 and 880 yards and one and two mile runs, 120 and 220 yard hurdles, running high and broad jumps, pole vault, shot put, hammer and discus breaking records of previous meetings. The rules will be printed in a 16-page booklet and copies will be sent to all entering schools.

With so many preparatory schools and academies in the state and such a good contesting ground as the new Vermont athletic field, there is no reason why an interest can not be stimulated in track and field athletics which will make the annual invitation-Vermont-interscholastic meet one of the chief events of the athletic year of all the educational institutions in the state.

Seminary Boys Had Ball Within Two Feet of Their Opponent's Line at End of the First Half-Time Called.

The football game between Goddard seminary and St. Johnsbury academy at St. Johnsbury Saturday afternoon, resulted in a draw, neither side being able to score a point in the two fifteenminute halves played. Goddard had the heavier team, but the academy made up for lightness by fast playing. Goddard had all the advantage of the game in the first half and would have scored had there been a minute more to play. the first half and would have scored had there been a minute more to play, having rushed the ball to within two feet of the academy's goal and was lining up to put it over in the next rush when time was called for the end of the half. This was the only time during the game that either goal was in real danger.

In the last half, though they were unable to score, St. Johnsbury seemed to have the better of their opponents and had it not been for the good work of Goddard's backs in stopping the rushes and had it not been for the good work of Goddard's backs in stopping the rushes after they had gotten through their line, the home team would have scored. Goddard was able to gain a good deal of ground, but could not gain consistently. After one or two rushes with goods gains, made especially by S. Berry and M. Clark, Goddard would lose the ball on downs, and before they could regain it would lose all they had gained. The weakness with both teams was in their lines.
